

Southeast Asia Climate and Health Responder Course

Manjit Sohal

Manjit Kaur “Jit” Sohal is a development professional with over 12 years of experience managing programs and projects in the Philippines and Southeast Asia. Over the years, Jit has worked in the field of disaster and climate resilience, designing and implementing programs that have a significant impact on communities as well as health facilities and systems in Southeast Asia.

Jit is currently serving as Regional Climate Manager at Health Care Without Harm where she manages and implements the organization’s climate strategy in Southeast Asia. Before joining her current organization, she worked with the Philippine Department of Social Welfare and Development focusing on the government’s social protection and disaster response, recovery, and rehabilitation programs. She also headed the business development and project management unit of a Philippine-based consulting firm for more than four years.

Jit is a graduate of Political Science from the University of the Philippines-Diliman.