Black Americans in healthcare dating back to the 1800s. History, HPM lecturer Heather Butts draws students' attention to exemplary...

HAVE YOU HEARD?

2022 HPM HEALTHCARE CONFERENCE

ONLINE HUMAN FACTORS AND ERGONOMICS

Assistant Professors Jamie Daw and Adam Sacarny co-authored a paper in JAMA Health Affairs. In addition, her paper in JAMA Health Affairs won Best Abstract in Women's Health at the 2022 AHA annual meeting.

Professor Bhaven Sampat was appointed to the Editorial Advisory Board of Milbank Quarterly. In addition, he published articles in Health Affairs and JAMA Internal Medicine. Professor John W. Rowe was featured in a Nature Aging article. In addition, he published an article in Health Affairs.

Associate Professor Paul Thurman released two new textbooks: the The Multiple Case Study Design and The Innovative Business. In addition, his new textbook was released along with an article in Health Affairs. Assistant Professor Kai Ruggeri received the State Medal for Meritorious Service. In addition, he published articles in Health Affairs and JAMA Internal Medicine.

Assistant Professor Julius Chen, received the Calderone Junior Faculty Award. In addition, his new textbook was released along with an article in Health Affairs.加is joined HPM in fall 2021.

Happy New Year!

Wishing you a wonderful and safe holiday.

WHAT'S NEW?

Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health Professor and Department Chair Michael S. Sparer, JD, PhD was featured in a New England Journal of Medicine article. In addition, her paper in JAMA Internal Medicine was used to support the project to cap the Cross Bronx Expressway.

The Link

Follow Us!

HPM was featured in APHA's Thought Leadership Film Series. To learn more about our various mentorship programs, and to stay current with our News and Events, check out our News & Events, and watch webinar recordings.

Buy This Book

HPM has over 100 alumni mentors who provide valuable support and guidance to our students. This mentorship program helps build long-lasting connections, beneficial to both mentors and mentees. HPM has over 100 alumni mentors who provide valuable support and guidance to our students. This mentorship program helps ease first-year students' transitions into the department and helps them become more familiar with the program. You can contribute to racial justice inequities.